

Inky Spokes Artist Application

Inky Spokes takes place annually as part of the Gigantic Bicycle Festival. We are seeking installation, interactive, and two dimensional work: sculpture, drawings, paintings, photography, lithography, new media art and multi-media works.

The Gigantic Bicycle Festival, the Pacific Northwest's annual summer celebration of bicycle culture, will take place at Centennial Fields Park in Snoqualmie, WA. The festival features a diverse, gloriously multifaceted and regionally representative mix of live music, performing arts, hand-built bicycles, film, interactive and visual arts.

Northwest artists interested in submitting to Inky Spokes may apply online, or fill out and email this PDF, attaching a minimum of three images 1MB or higher, in an email to curator Pamela Hathaway: inkyspokes@giganticbicyclegfestival.org

Apply online at www.giganticbicyclegfestival.org/inkyspokes

The Gigantic Bicycle Festival and Inky Spokes are projects of The Levee Breaking. The Levee Breaking is an associated program of Shunpike.
